

DryHop Brewers Craft Beer Week!

In addition to brewing all of the beers we sell, during Craft Beer Week we will be releasing three brand new offerings for you to try!

- A Kentucky Common style ale in collaboration with Eris Brewing! A very old, and sometimes forgotten style of beer. Very popular around Kentucky up until prohibition. Sometimes referred to as a “Cream Ale”. If you need a break from the hops, this should be a nice, summer alternative.
- An Oat IPA in honor of DryHop’s Anniversary!! We made it through 2020, and we’re one year older. Think along the lines of an oatmeal cream pie...
- Another IPA that we’re brewing to help contribute to Hope for the Day, a Chicago based suicide prevention non-profit. A great cause we’re excited to work with! We’ll have more specifics on the beer soon!

Stay tuned to our social media, as soon as a beer gets released that week, we’ll let everyone know!
